The State of Alabama } Before me the undersigned authority
Shelby County. } in and for said County, in said State, this day personally appeared George Scroggs, who, being first duly sworn deposes and says that he has resided in or near Montevallo in said Shelby County since the year 1867; first living at Aldrich, near Montevallo until 1871, when affiant removed to said Montevallo where he has since resided; that since the year 1871 affiant has all the while been engaged in mercantile business in said town of Montevallo, first as a clerk or salesman and afterwards conducting a mercantile business of his own; that during said time affiant was generally familiar with most of the citizenship of said Montevallo and the adjacent section and neighborhoods; that during all of said years affiant recalls the families of only two men bearing the name of Prentice who were land owners; that these two men were brothers and men of property and slave owners prior to the close of the civil war; that one of these was William Prentice and the other was Daniel H. Prentice whom affiant knew as Dan Prentice by which name he was generally spoken of; that affiant now owns and occupies the dwelling lot formerly owned and occupied by said Daniel

W. Prentice; that affiant now has in his possession the old deed made by said Dan Prentice in which he conveyed the said residence lot to affiants predecessors in titles; that said deed was signed D. Prentice has been dead for many years now, and that so far as affiant is informed there are none of his family or that of his brother William Prentice now residing in Montevallo or neighborhood and that affiant is morally certain that D. W. Prentice and Daniel W. Prentice was one and the same person.
