Assignee's Update of Patent

This document contains pages six pages

Comes now, Terry Colafrancesco, with clean hands living on the land recognizing the Republic Alabama claiming all rights known and unknown waiving none.

I/we have no known or unknown contracts, license, franchise, or any other written or oral agreement of any type, which in any way abrogates, violates, disparages, handicaps or limits in any way my/our un-alienable rights affirmed in, but not limited to the Constitutions of the United States of America and the Republic Alabama.

Considering that fraud is the intentional perversion of truth for the purpose of inducing another in reliance upon it to part with some valuable thing belonging to him or to surrender a legal right – and that silence can only be equated with fraud where there is a legal or moral duty to speak or where an inquiry left unanswered would be intentionally misleading. A reasonable amount of time of sixty days is herein acknowledged for the allowance of rebuttal to the facts conveyed in this document.

Regarding, the Alabama Constitution which recognizes that the sole object and only legitimate end of government is to protect the citizen in the enjoyment of life, liberty, and property, and when the government assumes other functions it is usurpation and oppression and Section 1-1-9 of the Alabama Code which states that “This Code shall not affect any existing right, remedy or defense,”.

Now, therefore the aforementioned includes but is not limited to my/our right to own private property.

All officers of the Republic of Alabama having been duly sworn - a voluntary act that expresses the manifestation of their will, to protect my/our private jurisdiction and authority while performing the duties of the people's office is accepted as a binding contract.

Now herein I/we place on public record:

MUNIMENT OF ASSIGNEES' UPDATE OF PATENT

PATENT NUMBER 33676

Know all men by these present that Terry Cola francesco does severally certify and declare that all the rights, privileges, immunities, and appurtenances, of whatsoever nature, as issued by PATENTS 33676 (see "Attachment 1") under the authority of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA do hereby accrue by and through the sweat of our brows, labor of my/our hands and grantor's WARRANTY DEED(s) (see "Attachment 2") to Terry Cola francesco, the aforementioned party(ies).

(1) The character of said property so PATENTED, is hereafter described:

See attached legal description(s) at "Attachment 2."

(2) Notice of pre-emptive right. pursuant to the Declaration of Independence [1776], the Treaty of Peace with Great Britain (8 stat. 80) known as the Treaty of Paris [1793, an Act of Congress [3 stat. 566, April 24, 1824], the Oregon treaty [9 stat. 869, June 15, 1846], the Homestead Act [12 stat. 392, 1862] and 43 USC Sections 57, 59, and 83; the recipient thereof is mandated by Art. VI Sections 1, 2, and 3; Art. IV Sections I CL. 1, & 2; Section 2 CL. 1 & 2; Section 4; the 4th, 7th, 9th, and 1 of the amendments U.S. Constitution, 1781-91

To acknowledge assignee's update of patent prosecuted by authority of Art. III section 2 cl. 1 & 2 and enforced by original/exclusive jurisdiction thereunder and it is the only way a perfect title can be had in our names, Wilcox vs. Jackson, 13 PET.(U.S.) 498, 101. ED. 264; all questions of fact decided by the general land office are binding everywhere. And injunctions and mandamus proceedings will not lie against it, Litchfield vs. The Register, 9 Wall. (U.S.) 575, 19 1. Ed. 681. This document is instructed to be attached to all deeds and/or conveyances in the names) of the above party(ies) as requiring recording of this document, in a manner known as nunc pro tunc [as it should have been done in the beginning], by order of United States supreme law mandate as endorsed by case history cited.

(3) NOTICE AND EFFECT OF A LAND PATENT.

A grant of land is a public law standing on the statute books of the Alabama, and is notice to every subsequent purchaser under any conflicting sale made afterward; Wineman vs. Gastrell, 54 Fed 819, 4 CCA 596, 2 US app 581.
<http://ftp.resource.org/courts.gov/c/F1/0054/0054.fl.0819.pdf>

Nothing passes a perfect title to public lands, with the exception of a few cases, but a patent. " A patent alone passes title to the grantee; Wilcox vs. Jackson, 13 PET (U.S.) 498, 10. 1. ED. 264.

When the United States has parted with title by a patent legally issued, and upon surveys legally made by itself and approved by the proper department, the title so granted cannot be impaired by any subsequent survey made by the government for its own purposes; Cage vs. Danks, 13, LA.ANN. 128.

“With respect to the public domain, the Constitution vests in Congress the power of disposition and of making all needful rules and regulations. That power is subject to no limitations. Congress has the absolute right to prescribe the times, the conditions, and the mode of transferring this property, or any part of it, and to designate the persons to whom the transfer shall be made. No State legislation can interfere with this right or embarrass its exercise; and to prevent the possibility of any attempted interference with it, a provision has been usually inserted in the compacts by which new States have been admitted into the Union, that such interference with the primary disposal of the soil of the United States shall never be made.” The transfer of legal title (patent) to public domain gives the transferee the right to possess and enjoy the land transferred, Supreme Court Gibson vs. Chouteau, 80 U.S. 92 13 Wall. 92

“Congress has the sole power to declare the dignity and effect of titles emanating from the United States; and the whole legislation of the federal government, in reference to the public lands, declares the patent the superior and conclusive evidence of legal title; until its issuance, the fee is in the government, which, by the patent, passes to the grantee;”

The power of congress to dispose of its land cannot be interfered with, or its exercise embarrassed by any state legislation; nor can such legislation deprive the grantees of the United States of the possession and enjoyment of the property granted by reason of any delay in the transfer of the title after the initiation of proceedings for its acquisition.

(4) Land title and transfer the existing system of land transfer is a long and tedious process involving the observance of many formalities and technicalities, a failure to observe any one of which may defeat the title. Even where these have been most carefully complied with. And where the title has been traced to its source, the purchaser must be at his peril, there always being in spite of the utmost care and expenditure the possibility that his title may turn out bad: Yeakle, Torrence system.

(5) CLAIM OF ALL RIGHTS.

It is hereby declared that Assignee takes claim of all rights, privileges, immunities and appurtenances of whatsoever nature to aforementioned property, Cuius est solum eius est usque ad coelum et ad inferos, Common Law doctrine, and, pursuant to its application as defined in United States v. Causby – 328 U.S. 256 (1946),

“The fact that he (landowner) does not occupy it (air) in a physical sense – by the erection of buildings and the like – is not material. As we have said, the flight of airplanes, which skim the surface but do not touch it, is as much an appropriation of the use of the land as a more conventional entry upon it...”

"...While the owner does not in any physical manner occupy that stratum of airspace or make use of it in the conventional sense, he does use it in somewhat the same sense that space left between buildings for the purpose of light and air is used. The superadjacent airspace at this low altitude is so close to the land that continuous invasions of it affect the use of the surface of the land itself. We think that the landowner, as an incident to his ownership, has a claim to it, and that invasions of it are in the same category as invasions of the surface."

Pursuant to Hinman v. Pacific Air Transport 84 F.2d 755,

"The landowner owns at least as much of the space above the ground as they can occupy or use in connection with the land."

Pursuant to Butler v. Frontier Telephone Co., 186 N.Y. 486, 79 N.E. 716 pp. 491,

"...an owner is entitled to the absolute and undisturbed possession of every part of his premises, including the space above, as much as a mine beneath..."

BE IT THEREFORE, applied that the cited cases supporting the Assignee's claim of all privileges, immunities and appurtenances of whatsoever nature, Cuius est solum eius est usque ad coelum et ad inferos, and Assignee's protection of right to aforementioned property from 5th Amendment U.S. Constitutional infringes of a taking, is thereby applied in all matters concerning, but not limited to: eminent domain, unreasonable search and seizure, surveillance, unjust regulation, and unjust taxation.
