ARTICLE V

The members of this limited liability company shall have the right to add new members by holding a special meeting of all the current members of the organization. At this meeting, a unanimous vote of those present will be required to amend these Articles of Organization to add one or more proposed new members.

ARTICLE VI

The members of this limited liability company shall have the right to continue the business in the event one or more of the members become dissociated with the company and so long as at least two or more members remain as members of the company.

ARTICLE VII

All members of the company shall share equally in the management of this limited liability company's affairs. Under no circumstances shall any single member or group of members smaller in number than the total number of members of the company take responsibility, either formally or informally, for managing the affairs of the company. This article is to be construed to mean that there shall never exist, within this limited liability company, any form of centralized management, and further that each and every member hereof shall be empowered to act for this limited liability company independently from the other members.

ARTICLE VIII

The members of this limited liability company shall not have the ability to freely transfer their individual interests in the company to parties not presently members.

ARTICLE IX

Any amendment required by these articles or by the laws of the State of Alabama with respect to limited liability companies shall be signed by at least one member. If an amendment is required pursuant to Article V above, the new member or members shall also sign the amendment adding them to the company.

ARTICLE X

The above represents the provisions required by the State of Alabama to form a limited liability company. Any information relevant to the internal affairs of this limited liability company can be found in the company document entitled "operating agreement."
